

The Windward Difference

Reporting and document generation should be simple, but the solutions most companies build or are forced to rely on make it overly complex, tedious and technical. Why can't generating reports and documents from your company's data sources be as simple as creating a Word document, Excel spreadsheet or PowerPoint deck?

Introducing Windward Studios

Windward Studios creates software applications that simplify how businesses design and generate professional documents and reports. Our solutions, which are ideal for document-intensive industries such as finance, healthcare and insurance, are used by software companies (OEMs) and IT consultants (SIs) who need to integrate reporting into their products.

What sets us apart:

1. A ten-year track record of high-quality solutions.
2. A focus on our customers' needs for superior template design, drag-and-drop functionality and flexibility with coding and data sources.
3. Excellence in customer service, with ample documentation, code and report samples and support resources.

As Simple as "Embed, Design and Deliver"

Our software simplifies how you add reporting and document generation functionality into your new or existing software application - in as little as 14 lines of code. Once you embed the code, your customers or in-house business professionals can design templates in Office that meet their exact reporting needs. Delivery is a push of a button.

No more begging a vendor or IT department to produce or continually tweak reports. It's an efficient, fast and hassle-free experience that our customers tell us can actually make generating reports fun. Imagine that.
